OVER A MILLION FIRE LOSS

AN IMMENSE PLANT OF THE STAND- ARD OIL WORKS DESTROYED.

Two Large Warehouses, Three Immense Tanks, Four Big Docks and About Ten Thousand Barrels of Oil Burned—A Heavy Loss at Cincinnati—Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A fire broke out early this morning in the Standard Oil company's immense plant at Constable Hook near Boyonne, N. Y., and before it could be controlled consumed over a million dollars' worth of property. It was exactly 2:15 a.
m. when a sheet of flame was seen to start up from the roof of the barrel house and in an instant the entire top of the building was in flames. The people of the village were awakened by cries of fire and knowing the inflammable material kept in the warehouse of the oil company, rushed from their houses feeling almost certain that their homes were doomed to destruction.

The entire fire department, comprising eight engines, hastened to the scene of the conflagration. Before the firemen could get the sluggish water through the hose the fire had assumed a mastery over the surrounding buildings, and from every nook and corner of the sheds and warehouses tongues of crackling flames shot forth. In a few minutes the barrel house was a mass of shining embers, but the supply house, built of solid timbers and heavy walls, gave ample food for the flames. Sparks from the burning buildings were blown to a neighboring oil tank, and an explosion that shook the entire village followed. Other tanks also exploded and in less time than it takes to describe it there were fully a half dozen explosions.
The burning oil was scattered in all directions. It was thrown on the little wooden sheds and storehouses scattered throughout the yard, and in a short while a quarter of a mile of such structures, built along the water's edge, were brilliant lights out on the waters of the bay. The vessels had to move out of danger. It was a gorgeous scene.
It was the largest fire that has yet visited this gigantic corporation at Constable Hook.
Two large warehouses, three immense tanks, four big docks and about ten thousand barrels of oil were licked up by the flames, leaving nothing but a mass of smoldering ruins. There is no insurance.

The cause of the fire could not be definitely ascertained, but the origin suggested spontaneous combustion.
As far as can be learned no one was injured. Hundreds of persons will be thrown out of employment. The Standard Oil company's possessions at Constable Hook includes the plant of the Tidewater Pipe company, the Polar Oil Company, the Ocean Oil company and other companies absorbed by the Standard. Work is carried on day and night. There are fifty oil tanks at the Hook and on the water front several manufacturing works, including the Bayonne Chemical works and the Oxford Copper and Sulphur company.

Big Fire at Cincinnati.
CINCINNATI, July 21.—A big fire occurred about 10 a. m., and was attended by most exciting scenes and incidents. The alarm was sounded twice, and was followed by a general alarm. Dense clouds of smoke rolled heavenward from the immense four-story brick building at the northwest corner of Ninth and Sycamore, occupied for thirty-five years by Briggs Swift and his partner Evans, in the pork-packing business. It is, therefore, a historic pile, brought more prominently before the public by the Fidelity bank unpleasantness with which Mr.
Swift was unfortunately connected.
In the cellar and sub-cellar of the building on account of its long occupancy as a meat depository, was a very bad air and to blow it out a fanning machine was kept constantly running. It was from a journal of this machine that the fire originated by friction, and by aid of the grease-saturated floors and timbers climbed quickly to the floors above.

Charles Shore and M. Goodman, at work on the second floor of the building, were the first to take alarm from the stifling smoke and they ran hastily to the office and gave the alarm. The two first floors of the building were occupied by the Gooch Ice Cream Freezer Manufacturing company. The Rugby paper box factory occupied the third floor and the White Star laundry the fourth floor. In the box factory there were sixty-five and in the laundry thirty-five girls. When it was discovered that the house was afire the panic among these girls was very great, and their screams could be heard for squares. It was at first thought that some of them had perished in the intense conflagration following the great excitement attending the rescue of some of them. It was later announced that they had all been saved by means of ladders and fire-escapes.

The entire building was gutted. The building, which belonged to Briggs Swift, was valued at $35,000. In the box factory the loss was $10,000 on machinery and $20,000 on stock. In the freezer factory the loss will in round numbers be $60,000, and in the laundry $5,000. Total loss, $130,000.
Partially insured.
Many were overcome with the heat in the terrible crush and violent exercise attending the fire.
The scenes attending the rescue of the girls was the most exciting of the fire. Billy Williams, the jailer, and others did brave and good work in their rescue. It was at first supposed that Kate Mullaney would be burned as it was believed her escape was cut off, but she was finally brought from the fourth floor by means of a ladder.

At Aberdeen Dakota.
ABERDEEN, Dak., July 21.—A large fire at Ipswich broke out at midnight last night in P. E. Shahan's store, totally destroying the Prior house and livery barn, Ipswich hotel Rodman's two large store buildings, Sutley's livery stable and Stage line, Julian Cliffgard's office, Judge Sturgis' residence, and a few dwellings. The loss, so far as ascertained, is $25,000; partly insured.

War of Extermination.
SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., July 21.—James D.
Belt was assassinated in Hardin county, Monday evening. His head was blown to pieces, the assassin firing from ambush. Belt was a half brother of Logan Belt, who was assassinated a few weeks ago near the same spot. These men, with Earl Sherwood and others, were tried a few months ago for the murder of Luke Hambrink and were acquitted. It seems that a war of extermination is in progress against the alleged murderers of Hambrink, and it is feared many good men will lose their lives.

NOT A PLEASANT THOUGHT.
Another Hot Wave on Its Way From the Northwest.

CINCINNATI, July 21.—At the signal office this morning reports received show a general fall of temperature throughout the country. At 6 o'clock the thermometer registered at Cincinnati 78 degrees above zero, at Cleveland 74, New York 79, Boston 66, Washington 74, Charleston 84, Jacksonville 80, Pensacola 82, New Orleans 78, Nashville 76, St. Louis 80, Chicago 66, North Platte 66, Denver 55. The greatest precipitation of rain is observed in Dakota and North Carolina. Slight rainfalls have occurred throughout the country, and traces of rain occur in Nebraska, Colorado and New York. The indications favor clear weather generally in the east, with higher, followed by slight changes in temperature, and winds variable.

At Norfolk, Va., eight persons have died from sunstroke; eight died at Philadelphia Tuesday; five at Charleston, S. C., and a hot wave growing in intensity. Tuesday was the hottest day ever known at Knoxville, Tenn. There were many prostrations, and work was generally suspended.

The mercury continued to rise all forenoon, and at 2:30 o'clock the signal service reported 93.3 degrees.

The following prostrations were reported to-day:
Capt. George Leist, of Engine Company No. 6, was prostrated at the fire this morning and was taken home. His condition is serious.

Barney McHugh, aged thirty-nine, a freight handler at the Southern depot, was prostrated by heat this morning. He was taken home to 540 West Fifth street. Not serious.

Clara Litmer, aged twenty-three, employed at Emerson, Fisher & Co.'s carriage works, was overcome by heat at 9 a. m., and removed to her home on Riddle road. Not serious.

Willie Horrook, assistant in the coroner's office, was overcome by heat while watching the Swift building fire from the roof of the court house. He was taken to the coroner's office and restored.

George Walz, aged forty-eight, of 107 Mohawk street, was prostrated by heat at Bank and Whitman streets, about 6:30 a. m., and was removed to his home. Not dangerous.

More Heat Coming.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The hot weather which has been so general has been followed by a cooler temperature throughout the country, except in the southeast seaboard states. The cool weather will be of short duration, however. Another hot wave is coming from the northwest. It may not be so excessively hot as its predecessor.

BLAINE IS ILL.

Tallo-Ho Riding Has Shaken Away His Appetite—Eulogizes the Scotch.

CHICAGO, July 21.—A cable from Krughorn, Scotland, to the News says Mr. Blaine is severely ailing, and he has half determined to abandon his summer trip to Paris and the Stanley club entertainment.
The turnpike trip to Duformine shook Mr.
Blaine up so severely that he has complained ever since of pains in his back. His appetite has been bad and his table servants of the Carnegie mansion say his temper is worse.
He could not be induced to take a seat in the coach this morning in the drive to Kingston. He walked down to the depot and took the train, arriving at Kingston half an hour ahead of the tally-ho.

At a banquet last evening, following the unveiling of the monument to Alexander III, Mr. Blaine, in response to the toast of his health, said: "The men of Scotch blood in America are far more numerous than they are in Scotland, and no portion of the inhabitants of the United States have contributed more to the general welfare of the republic, have established higher character, and have established in the great fields of labor more progressive talent. We must never forget to reckon the immense influence which Scotch blood has in the liberty loving character of the people."

Several enterprising photographers endeavored to catch Mr. Blaine in a presentable position at the unveiling of the monument, but his nimbleness of perception defeated them.

GAINED THEIR LIBERTY.

Thirteen Boys Escape from the Cleveland House of Refuge.

CLEVELAND, O., July 21.—A wholesale delivery of boys from the House of Refuge took place at 2:30 o'clock this morning.
When the watchman made his usual round at that hour he discovered that a bar in the window of one of the male dormitories in the fourth story had been cut and wrested from its position. The watchman found that three boys had already slipped through the hole. He ran down stairs for assistance, but before he could again reach the fourth floor, ten more of the incorrigibles had followed their comrades.

A call of the roll developed the fact that the following named boys had escaped: Willie Ralph, John Ford, Martin Murray, John Lacey, Michael McCarty, Edward Kelly, R. Byman, Noble Gillespie, Henry Marshall, John Flynn, Willie Hoffman, Edward Savage and Charles Snyder. The officers could find nothing in the shape of a rope or a ladder by which the youths could have reached the ground, and it is probable that a lightning rod furnished the means of descent. Police are looking for the fugitives.

McGlynn's Late Parishioners Indignant.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Dr. McGlynn's late parishioners of St. Stephen's church are indignant over the reported intention of the new management of the church to turn the orphan's home, founded by Dr. McGlynn, into a parochial school. They think the home is doing a great deal of good, that they share Dr. McGlynn's satisfaction with the public school system.

OHIO STATE CONVENTION.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC DE-LEGATES AT CLEVELAND.

General Powell Believed to Be the Favorite in the Race for Governor—The Anti-Administration Feeling Prevailing.
Convention Arrangements.

CLEVELAND, O., July 21.—Two-thirds of the delegates to the Democratic state convention have arrived here since midnight, and the hotels and political headquarters are crowded this morning with politicians of greater or less degree. The Seneca county delegation, headed by Hon. George E.
Senev, came in with their tomahawks whetted for the president's scalp, and declare that they will oppose first, last, and all the time, any move on the part of the convention in the direction of endorsing Mr.
Cleveland's administration.

"Sim" Donavin, of Delaware, who will be remembered as the source of the revelations connecting the legislature of 1884-85 with certain hood operations growing out of the senatorial contest arrived in the city last night, to assume charge of the candidacy of Gen. Powell, and as a consequence Senator Payne has emphatically refused to attend the meetings of the local reception committee of which he is a member and which meets in a parlor of the Weddell house, opposite to Donavin's headquarters.

This episode is creating no little talk, and among the Payne adherents there is a disposition to censure Gen. Powell for placing his campaign in the hands of an avowed enemy of the senator to whom, they say, he must look for support in the event of his nomination. The Seneca county delegation with Congressman and Candidate Campbell in tow, hardly waited for breakfast before starting in to make inroads on the Powell column. A strong under current of anti-administration feeling is being developed, and this is being made most of by Campbell's friends, who are giving it out that he is not in accord with the president's general policy and especially opposed to his action in the matter of the Confederate flags.

The latest estimates of the strength of the candidates gives Powell 300, Campbell 223, and Foran 125. There are 658 delegates, making 330 votes necessary to a choice.
Last night the Foran men were declaring that the Campbell strength would be thrown to their candidate at the proper moment, but this morning the Campbellites are reversing the position, and contend that there is an understanding by which they will receive the benefit of the Foran boom on the second or third ballot. Powell's friends persist in the declaration that they are out of the woods, but their hustling tactics this morning indicates that they are less confident of than a week ago.

The convention will make short work of its task. Under the new rules the county delegations will elect their members of the various committees, and when the gathering is called to order there will be no occasion for even a five minutes recess until its business is concluded.

The Press club has made the most elaborate arrangements for the convenience of the visiting correspondents. Its headquarters are open day and night and its tables loaded down with refreshments. Lunch will be served in the hall, in order that their work may not be interrupted. This afternoon there was a trip on the lake, a luncheon at the Rock river mansion of Daniel P. Eels, the wealthy banker, and a drive to Lake View cemetery and to the Garfield monument. The press arrangements in the music hall, which are also in charge of the club, are of the most complete and admirable character.

The Mabbitt Mystery.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., July 21.—The excitement over the capture of the Green brothers remains unabated. An organization of three hundred men has been perfected in the Mabbitt settlement and several hundred citizens gathered last night and hanged Bill and Amer Green in effigy amid the wildest excitement. Mr. Mabbitt has had an interview with Amer Green, the murderer of his daughter. Green declined to give the slightest satisfaction as to the terrible and mysterious ending of his daughter's life, saying that all would be made plain at the proper time, evidently intending to impress upon the father that his daughter was yet alive.

A Tragedy That Will Cost Four Lives.

OIL CITY, Pa., July 21.—Pistol shots attracted the police to the outskirts of town last night, where, in John McNeerney's hotel, they found the dead body of Mrs. McNeerney.
She had been chopped up with an ax. In another room was found her son, a brakeman. He had been shot in the breast and was dying. He told the officers the bloody work had been done by his father, who was hiding in the cellar. Two policemen dashed down the steps to secure the murderer, and were fired upon and Policeman George James mortally shot. The other policeman fired at McNeerney and shot him through the back. He will die.

The McCoy Trial.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 21.—At the McCoy trial to-day Mrs. Elizabeth Boynton testified that she heard some one threaten to shoot Charlie Ault. She saw Alfred McCoy follow Northrup up the steps of the store. Pierson headed him off. Mrs. Mary Johnston heard the shooting. She saw Northrup run followed by Alfred and Pierson. She saw him shoot twice. She saw Northrup fall.
The witness said to the McCoy's, "For God's sake, don't shoot any more; you have killed him now." Then she fainted. McCoy looks pale, and is not as defiant as before.

Harvey Gets Twelve Years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—Oscar J.
Harvey, the defaulting chief of the horse claims division, treasury department, was arraigned to-day before Judge Montgomery, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment at the Albany penitentiary.

Another Million Lost.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 21.—The St.
Anthony wheat elevator, the largest in the northwest, about two miles east of the city, was burned last night. The total loss is $1-075,000. There were over 1,000,000 bushels of wheat—one-tenth of the northwest's visible supply—destroyed.

LABOR READING.

Longshoremen Secure Their Old Places and Renew Their Demands.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The union longshoremen are again in the ascendant and have given notice that they want the old rates of wages for night work and work done on Sundays and other holidays. Previous to the great strike of last winter, when the longshoremen struck out of sympathy with the coal heavers and also to help out the striking longshoremen of the Old Dominion Steamship company, most of them were getting between thirty and forty cents an hour for day work and sixty cents for night work, but when the great strike was lost and they applied for work on the piers they found that the steamship companies were paying the new hands only forty-five cents for night work, and they were told that they could not get any more.

The companies also refused to discharge the new hands and offered employment only to those old hands for whom vacancies could be found. Such longshoremen accepted the inevitable, and gradually the companies discharged the green hands who were taken during the strike and put old men in their places, because they could get more work out of them in a given time. In course of time all, or nearly all, of the old hands were at work again, and they decided to make an effort to get their old rates. Yesterday their officers furnished a notice to shipowners, stevedores and captains, demanding sixty cents per hour for night work and work on legal holidays.

Effects of the Brooklyn Strike.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The effects of the recent strike on the Brooklyn elevated railroad had all disappeared yesterday, and the trains were run on the old schedule time. Of the seventy men who quit work after giving the company an hour's notice, sixty-eight, Col. Martin says, have filed application for reinstatement. Three of them were taken back yesterday. These men say Chairman J. Wright, of the strikers' committee, misled them at the beginning of the trouble.
They feel bitter against the Knights of Labor to whom mainly they attribute their defeat.

Labors Leaving the Lamp Works.

RAHWAY, N. J., July 21.—The Edison electric lamp works, at Harrison, N. J., were closed for two weeks beginning July 4.
When the glass blowers, numbering twenty-five, returned to work Monday morning they were informed that a reduction would be made, in some cases amounting to $4 or $5 per week. This they would not submit to and left the shop in a body. While no strike was declared the men intend to seek employment in other shops.

Death of a Converted Mohammedan.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Lazarus S. Murad, a converted Mohammedan, died yesterday at his home in this city. He was born in Bethlehem, Judea, in 1824, and was converted to Christianity many years ago by American missionaries. This led to his imprisonment by his father, but he escaped and has since resided in England and America. He was finally educated and devoted himself mainly to religious and educational literary work.

Harness Makers in Session.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A National convention of the harness makers of America was begun to-day at Clarendon hall. In some states there are new organizations which will not be represented at the present convention, but the other states send one delegate each, and an attendance of eighteen or twenty is expected. The object of the convention is to form a national organization.
The proceedings are being conducted with closed doors.

Charged With Inhuman Treatment.

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 21.—Mrs. A. Little, a member of the Salvation Army, is charged with inhuman treatment of her infant children, and they have been taken from her by the police. Her husband was driven from home by her last night. The woman is believed to be crazed by religious excitement.

The Convicted Briber.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Jacob Sharp retired for the night at 10 o'clock last night.
He enjoyed intermittent sleep up to midnight. After that hour he tossed restlessly on his bed until 3 o'clock. Mr. Sharp arose at 10 o'clock this morning, an hour later than usual. He is not feeling very well today.

Funeral of Mrs. Chanfrau.

PITTSBURG, July 21.—The funeral of Mrs.
Sadie Fulton Chanfrau, wife of H. T. Chan-frau, the actor, took place from the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Baldwin, in the East End, this city, this morning and was attended by a large circle of friends. The remains arrived from Atlantic City yesterday.

A Youthful Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Allan Harp, aged sixteen, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head. His body was found lying on the newly made grave of a dog which died recently, and of which he had been very fond.

Stanyard Refused a New Trial.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 21.—Yesterday Judge Johnson denied a new trial for Ebenezer Stanyard, murderer of Miss Alice Hancock. Exceptions to the ruling were noted, and the case will be taken up.

Paper Dealer Assigns.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Orlando B. Hastings, doing business under the name of Hastings & Todd, dealers in paper, at 35 Beekman street, has made an assignment with preferences amounting to about $23,000.

No Intention of Going to Canada.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Ex-Alderman Mo-Cabe is said by his counsel to be at Hunter, Greene county, N. Y., in the Catskills, and to have no intention of going to Canada.

Back in Washington.

and Mrs. Cleveland, Col. Lamont, and Secretary and Mrs. Fairchild returned to Washington this morning.

Dental association held its annual meeting here yesterday. There were 100 American dentists present.

THE Democracy of Robertson are united, and the usual majority for the ticket is expected in August.

At Henderson, Ky., the Board of Education has determined to appoint white teachers for the colored schools.

'SQUIRE MOSBY has held the office of Magistrate in Barren County for thirty years. He knows when he has enough, though, and declines a re-election.

KENTUCKY loses one of her most distinguished citizens by the death of Col. Thomas L. Jones, which occurred yesterday. He had been ill for the past year.

SOME Republicans are conceding General Buckner but 25,000 majority. If the Democrats will do their duty their majority will not be that low. It ought to be 40,000 at least.

THE Herald, published by negroes at Lexington, heretofore supporting the Republican party, has abandoned the Republican State ticket and now supports the Prohibition ticket.

THE "McCreary Democratic Club" has been organized at Lancaster. If the members are at all like the distinguished Kentuckian for whom their club is named, good work may be expected of them.

FROM July 1, 1887, there was an increase of $65,729,290 in the amount of currency in active circulation in this country. This increase has been accompanied by a healthy improvement in business.

THE Kentucky Union Railroad Company has decided to build seventy-five miles of its line, instead of fifty-five as originally intended. The road will extend from Lexington into the coal and iron fields of Breathitt County.

COLONEL BRADLEY is now reported as saying that he didn't mean anything when he charged that Governor Knott wrote Gen. Buckner's Lexington speech. That would be a short way out of the trouble he has gotten himself into, if it wasn't for Jim Jones.

THE colored voters of Lexington are said to be taking quite a lively interest in the Prohibition ticket. If they should go over bodily to that ticket, where would Colonel Bradley and his party find themselves at the close of the polls on the first Monday in August?

A SHORTAGE of $20 only was found by examination of the books of the Sixth Auditor's office at Washington City—thought to be an overpayment or error in making change. This is a good record in as much as the incumbent has disbursed over $900,000 since 1885.

THE State Board of Pharmacy is taking steps to compel all druggists to register and comply with the law. Names of the unregistered pharmacists are being sent to Dr. Rogers, the Registrar of the Board, and those who fail to comply with the law will, it is said, be prosecuted next fall.

"MR. BRADLEY and the Republican managers think they carry the labor vote in their pockets," says the Louisville Times. It would be a beautiful sight to see the laboring man marching up to the polls, voting for the party under whose rule every monopoly in the land was created, fostered and fattened."

THE railroads are faring much better this year than they did in 1886. Says the Louisville Courier-Journal: "The railroad foreclosures in the first six months of 1887 include $67,168,000 funded debt and $89,770,000 capital stock, a total of $156,938,000. But in the first half of 1886 the land and stock liquidated under foreclosure amounted $292,000,000. The new receiverships ordered in the first half of 1887 represent $10,208,000 capital and debt against $28,010,000 in the first half 1886."

SAM SMALL, the evangelist got mad at something Henry Watterson wrote for the Courier-Journal not long ago, and in a sermon a few days afterwards he is said to have reviled and abused the distinguished editor in pretty strong language to be heard from the lips of a minister. Writing of this, Rev. Cleon Keyes, of North Fork, says: "I read, with astonishment, Sam Small's tirade against the editor of the Courier-Journal. How any minister of the Gospel can use such harsh and insulting language against another person is, to me, amazing. His stomach must certainly be in as bad condition as he represents Watterson's to be."

Democratic Administration.

The record which the present administration has made—and it's a Democratic administration, too—is one that will commend that party to the honest people of the country. What has been done since Cleveland took the oath of office is best told in the language of that distinguished Kentuckian, Senator Beck. In one of his recent speeches he said:

"We are now in power, and while we have not done all that we hoped to do, and if you please, promised to do, nearly every step taken has been in the right direction. No well founded charge has been made that the President or any other man in authority under him has used his power or position to promote his own personal ends or those of his friends. The subsidy-seekers have been driven from the Postoffice Department and Star Route speculations have ceased. In the Indian service 600 cattle can no longer be made to count 1,200, by running them around the hills and counting them a second time. The public lands can no longer be fenced in and held by foreign or domestic corporations, and the public domain appropriated or held for settlement indefinitely by railroad corporations. When money is appropriated to build a navy now, ships are required that are of value; and not voters from the navy yards or the political influence of contractors, which was about all that was formerly obtained for the hundreds of millions that were squandered.

"Post-traderships are no longer for sale in the army and it is not now allowed to intimidate voters at the polls. There are now no John Davenports or disreputable characters, under guise of Supervisors, armed and paid by the Department of Justice, to control elections in the States. Jay Hubbell's manifestos are no longer held up before the officials of the Government to coerce their money from them for party purposes on pain of immediate dismissal. The Treasury and the Custom Houses are no longer dumping places for Louisiana Returning Boards, and whiskey rings cannot thrive by official connivance. In short honesty is enforced everywhere and the American citizen in any foreign land can proudly proclaim that his country is free from venality and corruption, and that Judge Hoar's terrible arraignment of his own official partisans does not apply to Democrats in office.

SOME MINING STORIES.

QUEER TALES ABOUT MINE PLACING AND MINE SELLING.

Old Tom Johns' Exploits—Claims Located Under Perpetual Snows—How People Have Been Led to Invest in "Holes in the Ground."

The ride from Kansas City to Denver is the dullest, dustiest, hottest and most tiresome, at this time of year, that it is possible to imagine. The distance is 639 miles by the Union Pacific, and civilization is strung out so thinly and at such wide intervals that the trip has a desert flavor, and with the thermometer ranging from 90 to 100 degs., and with the cars crowded to the last platform of the train, there is little comfort and less enjoyment in it than in anything else that I know of. But the journey was, to an appreciable degree, enlivened by some stories told by men concerned in one way or another with Colorado mining. They will of course have no effect upon legitimate trading in mines, which is carried on to such a large extent in St. Louis, but they will serve as pleasant illustrations of the reckless and extravagant ways in which many people have been led to invest in "holes in the ground," without giving the subject any consideration whatever, or allowing their discretion to guide them, as they would in other business ventures. The cause of this rash and impetuous dash for fortune is thoroughly appreciated by the genuine westerner, who keeps cool and resists impulse under the most shining or trying circumstances.

"You are from St. Louis, are you?" a gentleman asked, who is superintendent of a prosperous mine near Georgetown. "Well, you came from a great mine market, and your citizens own some very fine properties. They tell me it's as easy to place a mine in St. Louis as it is to catch the cholera in Constantinople when an epidemic is flourishing there. All a man has got to do is to land in the town with a map of a prairie dog hole, or some kind of two days old excavation, and go around with a subscription paper, and if he starts out early in the morning he can have his document full of names and his pockets full of money before night."

"You have heard of old Tom Johns?" another westerner broke in. "What! not heard of Tom Johns—the old fellow that played the specimen trick on Anna Dickinson when Commodore Decatur was showing her over the mountains, near Georgetown? Well, I'll tell you. Tom Johns took the St. Louis and Boston folks in good style, and has made more money selling mines, which nobody has ever seen or heard of, than any man in western history. He sold a mine in St. Louis for $100,000 that paid $24,000 dividends in two years. He paid the dividends himself, and when he got tired of paying them he just quit, and I believe the owners of that mine have been looking for it ever since. I don't suppose old Tom himself knew where it was—or cared either."

"He broke one family in Boston, Tom did, and got $300,000 out of a syndicate at the Hub that were the worst fooled lot of money bags that ever struck Colorado. This syndicate, or it may be only a delegation of them, came west to see the mine in which they had paid their money, and of which Tom gave them an account ten times more glowing than the Book of Revelations. When Tom got word that they were en route he was not worried in the least. He hired a big house up in the mountains just beyond Georgetown, some kind of a hotel, I think it was, and he got servants and groceries and champagne, and made all necessary arrangements to furnish first class entertainment. He met them at Denver and escorted them the rest of the way. The party were tired, and they stood the entertaining for three or four days; at the end of that time they wanted to see their $200,000 mine. Old Tom took them out a piece and up a bit, and pointing to a row of stakes driven in the snow, said:

"There she is, gentlemen. Right under them stakes, which I have had put there by a surveyor, just over my stakes in the ground, is your mine. You can't see it now because the snow's on it, but when the snow goes she'll be all hunky, and you can bet it's a bonanza."

"That's all the Boston syndicate ever saw of their mine, which was located on Gothic Peak, I think. Those stakes in the snow cost them $300,000."

"Talking about snow investments," said a mining expert who was in the party, "did you ever hear of the man who ran a 200-foot tunnel into a snow bank? Not Well, this man was some kind of an engineer, and some Eastern people who had bought a mine engaged him to run a tunnel for them, and he did it—he ran it through 200 feet of snow and got paid for it, and when the snow melted and the greenhorns went out to look for their tunnel it had been dissipated by the sun and was skimming down towards the basin of the Mississippi valley by way of the Arkansas river."

Then another story was told about a young man who belonged to an Illinois syndicate that purchased a mine in some part of the mountains and came out to look at it. This was two summers ago. Somebody helped him to locate the claim, and they found it under a mass of snow.

"How can we get at it?" he asked.

"You can't get at it till the snow melts," was the answer.

"And when will the snow melt?"

"Don't know."

He waited all that summer, and the snow was still there, when he packed his grip and started back for the sucker state. The following summer he tried it again, but the snow was there still. He has not been around yet this summer, but he's expected.

At Nevada City 1,000 pounds of ore were sold a short time ago for $8,000. It was identified as the product of the Eberhard mine, near White Pines, and there was a great deal of curiosity to learn how it had been carried out of the mine. The story was obtained in some way, and this is it: A Cornish miner employed in the Eberhard had his dinner bucket made with a false bottom, into which he put a specimen every day, carrying it away safely to a cabin which he shared with another Cornish man who worked on the night shift. As his partner was absent when he was present, he had no trouble in secreting the ore, placing it each night under the floor of the cabin and keeping its presence and whereabouts a secret. One morning he informed his partner that he was going to quit the Eberhard and leave the country. The partner must have been suspicious, for he only waited for the ore thief to get out of sight, when he tore up the cabin floor, and, borrowing a horse and wagon, loaded up the 1,800 pounds of stuff, and driving to Nevada City, sold it. He then disappeared, and the original thief never got a cent.

AFFAIRS AT MOREHEAD.

Peace Still Prevails, but the Place is Well Guarded.

D. B. Logan and Sheriff Hodge, of Rowan County, were here yesterday morning, leaving on the noon train for Flemingsburg and Frankfort. Logan will be remembered as the leader of the "Law and Order" people of Rowan, who killed Craig Tolliver and three of his gang not long ago. Quiet still prevails at Morehead; but to prevent any surprise from the friends of the Tollivers, a guard of twenty armed citizens is kept on duty all the time.

Messrs Logan and Hodge were in consultation with Judge Cole at his residence nearly all morning. The object of their visit is not definitely known, but it had reference to the approaching term of court at that place, which will convene August 2nd. It is rumored that the "Law and Order" people fear trouble at that time unless the Governor sends some of the State troops there to aid in preserving order. Allie Young and Taylor Young, Jr., will have to be on hand to answer the charges brought against them, and Colonel Young will be on hand to defend his sons. The presence of these persons at Morehead will, it is feared occasion trouble from some of the Logan followers.

It is thought that Judge Cole will make a formal request on the Governor for a company of the State guards.

CAPTAIN W. G. DEARING's speech at the court house last evening on the importance of changing the State Constitution was listened to by a small audience. The subject is one that the people do not seem to take much interest in. An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

OUR FOREIGN TELEGRAMS

THE UNRELIABLE SOURCE OF MANY OF THE CABLE DISPATCHES.

Conflicting Reports Regarding the Health of Emperor William—Startling Rumors and Their Objects—Criticism of the British Government—Notes.

LONDON, July 21.—The reports concerning the health of the aged Emperor of Germany are infinitely more varied than the fluctuations of a thermometer. One day he is ill and the next day he isn't. He is in improved health in the morning, in a coma at noon, riding his favorite charger in the afternoon and attended by half a dozen physicians after dinner.

All of the reports agree that the emperor is alive, and of this there doesn't seem to be any doubt, but the stories of his taking long rides on horseback and protracted strolls after dinner may be taken in homeopathic doses alternately, with the yarn that the pope is going to remove the headquarters of the church to Malta, or the fiction that Mr. Gladstone is contemplating a stumping tour of the United States. As a matter of fact the kaiser is wound up every morning like an old-fashioned clock, and least he might possibly run down before night is given an occasional turn during the day, so that in the interval between his rising and retiring his mechanism is constantly under the observation of his attendants.

The censorship of the Russian government over dispatches passing through the telegraph offices of Russia is noted the world over for its severity, but the scrutiny to which the czar's agents subject telegrams becomes the extreme of mildness and the merest perfunctory duty when compared to the precautions taken by the personal attendants of the Emperor of Germany against the leaking out of any information indicating the true condition of the imperial nonagenarian, while everything that can possibly be said as showing the slightest improvement in his physical state is telegraphed far and wide. Not only are such dispatches spread broadcast, but they are also worded so as to present to their readers the picture of a hale old man physically vigorous and mentally acute who has been suffering a few days' inconvenience from a slight cold, but is sufficiently convalescent to perform with perfect ease and even alacrity the functions of a man forty years of age. Truly some of these dispatches are marvels of misleading diction.

Much has been said recently as to the probability of war between Germany and France immediately after the emperor's death conveying the impression, as it was intended that it should be conveyed, that the present peaceful attitude of Germany is due entirely to the emperor's firmness in guiding the destinies of the fatherland, and these stories, too, if traced to their origin, would be found to have originated in Berlin, and very near, if not actually within, the palace. There is a remote possibility that the representations thus made may have been reared upon a foundation of truth, but there are persons, and well-informed persons, too, who believe that for the last twelve months, if not for a much longer period, the emperor has had as little to do with the conduct of German National, political and diplomatic affairs as the man whose vigorous rubbing restores to his feeble body when he awakes each morning something akin to the sensations he experienced before his blood ceased to circulate without stimulation, when all of his food was taken through its natural channel, and when he could arise from his bed and walk about his room without being lifted or propped up.

It is noteworthy that the Times, Standard, Daily News and other morning papers contain Berlin dispatches concerning the emperor's health and whereabouts, announcing his arrival at Gastein in the care of three physicians. The latter dispatch significantly adds that the hotel proprietors were obliged to put their imperial guest on the first floor because he wasn't able to get up stairs, and intimates that he was afraid he should fall down stairs if he tried to do so. It is well enough for Germans to claim the oldest monarch in the world for they have him; but it's ridiculous to claim also that he exceeds all others in vigor or indeed that he surpasses anybody in that respect.

Criticism of the English Government.
LONDON, July 21.—The Standard says there will doubtless be more or less contemptuous criticism of the government's course in relation to the land bill on account of its desire to avoid giving offense to the Unionists, but the critics can afford to treat the matter with good humored indifference since the main objects of the Conservatives' connection with the Unionists is to maintain the union. It stands to reason, therefore, that the government is bound to consult the wishes of its allies and make a partial sacrifice of its own preference.

Her Krupp's Funeral.
BERLIN, July 21.—The funeral of Her Krupp, at Essen yesterday, was attended by 1,200 of the workmen employed in his famous foundries. Messages of condolence were received by the family from the Emperor, Prince Bismarck, Count von Moltke and many other prominent persons.

The Bulgarian Ministry Afraid.
SOFIA, July 21.—The new Bulgarian ministry have not yet entered Sofia or assumed their positions here. It is said that they are afraid of the opposition of the army, which intends to proclaim independence and place Prince Alexander on the throne again as king.

France Will Not Recognize Ferdinand.
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—The French government informed the Porte that it cannot acknowledge Prince Ferdinand's election as Prince of Bulgaria because it is informed that a number of Roumelists voted at his election.

Shooting Contest.
LONDON, July 21.—At the Wimbledon shooting contests to-day for the Kolapore cup, English marksmen won the prize, scoring 719 points. Canada was second, making 663 points, and took a prize of $400.

A Bad, Ignorant Parent.
CHICAGO, July 21.—A. L. Parent, the defaulting cashier of the Banque D'Hochelaga, of Montreal, Can., who embezzled $47,000 from that institution, will have a hearing of his habeas corpus petition to-day. This will not give him his freedom, however, for he will at once be tried on two indictments for bringing stolen money into the state. Parent brought $22,000 of his stolen funds to Chicago, and coolly said he thought the public ought to be glad when Canada money comes here, as Americans are all the time going over into Canada and taking American money with them. Parent is a French Canadian.

Startling Assassination.
CAMBRIDGE, O., July 21.—About 11 o'clock Monday night, William George, a young man employed by a farmer named McLees, went to the house of another farm hand, named James Scott, an old man, and asked his assistance in getting a horse out of a ditch in which it had fallen. The men procured axes and started away. An hour later George returned to McLees' and reported that he had killed Scott in self-defense. This morning the body was found lying in the ravine, the head smashed to a jelly and a bloody ax lying near by. The mystery is that no horse was in the ditch, and no motive can be assigned for the crime. George made no effort to escape, and he is now under arrest. Owing to the absence of the coroner no one would touch the body, and it was allowed to lie on the ground till the afternoon.

Fined and Imprisoned for Contempt.
NEW YORK, July 21.—Alexander Thain, a well-known lawyer of this city, has been imprisoned in Ludlow street jail and fined $500 for contempt of court in refusing to obey an order of the court to surrender the property held by him as receiver in the suit of A. J. Wesson against J. R. Watt. He claims that his fine is excessive and illegal, and that he has in fact turned over the property according to the court's order.

Peculiar Accident.
TOLEDO, O., July 21.—Thomas Coyle, a member of the board of police commissioners of this, met with a painful and dangerous accident yesterday morning. While repairing a machine a diamond-shaped steel seal flew from the head of a tool and penetrated his left arm, cutting the main artery. It required an hour's work to stop the flow of blood and extract the steel. The gentleman is now resting easily.

Big Railroad Wreck.
LANCASTER, Pa., July 21.—A big wreck was caused by the rails spreading on the Pennsylvania railroad near Gordonville, at 11 o'clock this morning. Engine 585 and thirteen freight cars were thrown from the track, and all but the locomotive rolled down a steep embankment. The wrecking crews will have twenty-four hours work in clearing away the debris.

He Helped the Lynchers.
FULTON, Ky., July 21.—Several weeks ago John Vanderford, a big negro, assaulted a six-year-old girl at Rutherford, Tenn. Monday the brute was captured by the officers here and a mob attempted to take him, but was repulsed. Vanderford acknowledged the crime and asked to be taken back to Tennessee. He said he was ready and willing to die at any time. He was taken from the officers yesterday and hung to a tree, the brute helping to pull himself up.

Atlanta Injured in the Test.
NEW YORK, July 21.—The Sun says it is learned from private letters of a naval officer that serious damage was done to the decks of the cruiser Atlanta by the firing of her eight-inch guns during the recent test at Annapolis. It is alleged that guns of that calibre will be too large for use on the Atlanta and her sister ship, the Boston.

Broadway Turned Into a River.
NEW YORK, July 21.—The bursting of a hydrant at Madison Square last evening turned Broadway into a river and furnished exciting labor for a small army of public works employees. Repeated charges were made upon the hydrant by the workman in a body in attempts to put an iron cap over the break, but the force of the water as often drove them back. A large crowd witnessed the novel scene. After four hours' work the flood was subdued and the break repaired.

Walked Into the River and Was Drowned.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 21.—Giles Luther, an aged resident in the outskirts of Warren, left his invalid wife at 11 o'clock last night, to get a neighbor to go to town for a doctor, as Mrs. Luther was failing. On returning he walked into the Kickimul river, four feet deep and being much fatigued and partially blind he was unable to get out. His body was found this morning and his wife died while it was being brought into the house.
